

A Message from the CML Network

When the Canadian CML Network was founded, it was in response to the gap that existed in support for people living with CML and those who cared for them. Now 10 years later, the Network continues to work with patients and families across Canada providing educational, social and emotional support, as well as engaging in advocacy on both national and international levels.

As any patient knows, a strong support network is key to moving through a serious diagnosis. That's why we are proud to introduce the first Evening of the Extraordinary recognizing the amazing in CML. This event, on May 25, 2018, will kick off our fifth annual Living Well with CML conference on May 26, 2018. This conference attracts people from all over Canada and has become a beacon in the storm for many searching for education, support and most of all, a community.

We hope you will join us in our inaugural celebration of those who make the lives of people with CML better, and supporting living well with CML.
